The Sites and Venues... Most of our workshops are based at a delightful venue with full facilities and shared accommodation (2 beds per room) near St Arnaud. From there we are going out into beautiful and diverse nature settings of forests, rivers and lakes of Nelson Lakes National Park. The nature journey is a multi-day trip into a National Park and the Nature Vision Quest is held in our covenanted magnificent Te Kaainga Tawhai Forest, bordering Kahurangi National Park.
How does it work.... Deep Nature Work is a blend of personal nurturing, development elements and nature activities, tools and reflections that match the theme of each workshop. There are times working in a circle as a group, times for individual and pair integration and big chunks of time in nature to gain insights, nourishment and connection. For the standard workshops the walks are short and achievable by most people. The journey requires a certain level of fitness and comfort in the outdoors. We can match physical challenges/ disabilities with adapted activities.
Contributions and Costs... We offer Deep Nature work to nurture people to grow into their shining selves and deepen their connection to our beautiful planet. To make it accessible to people, we keep the fees for our standard workshops to a minimum, though we accept koha if you want to add it to the base costs. We also have barter and payment options if the fee is unachievable for some reason – please get in touch if this is the case. We ask people to bring: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• $200 to contribute to venue hire, equipment, travel, etc• Food to share with the community – we prepare and cook together, having lots of fun and yummy celebratory dinners.
Tailormade Workshops, Facilitation and Coaching For our tailormade services there are a range of fees, and it is best to get in touch with us to find out how we can meet your needs. We have different rates for community and corporates and again do our best to make our services accessible for everyone.
