

Adi Tait – Graphic Designer – Sculptor – Mixed Media Artist - Tutor

I am a graphic designer as well as a multimedia artist and have run many workshops over the years in Illustrator, Photoshop and painting/drawing. I have been a tutor at NMIT teaching digital design as well as fine arts. I have had over 30 solo and group exhibitions in New Zealand and overseas and recently have been working on several large public sculptures.

I love the process of transforming ideas into design, and the creative process of working with varying colours and permutations. I am interested in transforming images from the flora and fauna of New Zealand into contemporary digital designs – whether for artwork, fabric or paper.
